

2. During the past year, several cases of anthrax due to infection contained in shaving brushes were reported. The majority of such brushes are suspected to have been made in Japan and unless arrangements can be made to exclude infected shaving brushes from the market, it is desirable to warn the public against the danger of contracting the disease from such brushes. The danger is not necessarily confined to shaving brushes, but is liable to exist in tooth brushes, nail brushes and cheap paint brushes also. The Government of India are advised that, if intending purchasers obtain an assurance that the brush offered for sale is not one of a batch imported from Japan and disinfect all doubtful brushes, especially the cheap variety, the danger would be lessened. The following method of disinfection has been suggested:

Thoroughly wash the hair of the brush with soap and warm water to which a little washing soda has been added, rinse in warm water and then immerse overnight in a disinfecting solution consisting of either perchloride of mercury 1 in 1,000, or formal in 2 table spoon fulls to half a pint of water. After removal from the disinfecting solution, the brush should be washed and then allowed to dry before use. The disinfecting solution should initially be at a temperature slightly above the body heat and care should be taken not to allow the hairs of the brush to come in contact with the hand while under disinfection.

3. I am to request that, if there is no objection, this letter may, as an ad interim measure, be given as wide a publicity as possible for the benefit of the public in general. A further communication will perhaps be made to you when a decision is arrived at on the question now under consideration of prohibiting the importation into India of infected shaving and tooth brushes, etc., from other countries.

By Order,

C. S. BALASUNDARAM IYER,
Chief Secretary to Government.
